

Ellenoff Grossman & Schole LLP News & Events

EG&S is pleased to announce the promotion of Atul R. Singh from Associate to Of Counsel

ATUL R. SINGH

Atul Singh is an intellectual property attorney whose practice focuses primarily on advising clients on trademarks, copyrights and related fields. Mr. Singh has represented a broad range of clients in intellectual property matters, including in the telecommunications, Internet, e-commerce, media, luxury goods, publishing, apparel, retail, consumer products, software, and technology industries.

Mr. Singh has litigated intellectual property cases in several arenas including trademarks, copyrights, false advertising, trade dress, domain names (UDRP), and unfair competition. Mr. Singh has also been involved with patent litigation. Mr. Singh has also performed all aspects of United States trademark prosecution and handled proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB) of the United States Patent & Trademark Office. His transactional experience encompasses the negotiation and drafting of various intellectual property agreements such as licenses, co-existence agreements, settlement agreements, work-for-hire agreements, assignments, and non-disclosure agreements.

Mr. Singh also counsels clients on drafting and adopting website terms of use and privacy policies. Mr. Singh has successfully completed the requirements for CIPP/US designation in privacy law from the International Association for Privacy Professionals, a not-for-profit association.

Click here to read his full bio.